Annual Meeting of the Teachers' Association at Detroit.

RAISING FUNDS FOR CONCERTS.

The Chamber Compositions by the Beethoren Quartet Club.

PROGRAMME OF YON BUELOW'S TREAT

General interest is already being aroused in anticipation of the next annual meeting of the Music Teachers' National Association to be held at Detroit in June. The work of the National Association becomes of more and more value with each year's experience -and especially with the increasing number and activity of the State associations.

The difficult question of providing for the expenses of an orchestra and chorus for the Association concerts seems in a fair way of settlement. Mr. Hahn, the well-known Detroit musician, has already raised a goodly subscription among his townsfolk for this purpose. A movement toward the same end has commenced, and ought to spread widely, in the giving of concerts for the benefit of this fund. Quite a number of such concerts have been given, the last heard of being one conducted by Mr. Charles W. Landon at Claverack College Conservatory on the 28th ult.—at which, by the way, our Mr. Ad M Foerster's 'The Star.' op. 6 No. 1, was given by Miss Grace Parsons. What enterprising and public spirited musician in Pittsburg will come forth with a concert for the same laudable object?

The giving of high-class concerts is one of the most important features of these annual meetings—important alike for the sake of the very many teachers present who never hear good concerts at home, and for the sake of the rising American composers who have few or no opportunities of having their works produced. From either standpoint the presence of a good orchestra and chorns is the most important element, these being the hardest things for the average town or composer to command.

The list of works by American composers. Detroit musician, has already raised a element, these being the hardest things for the average town or composer to command.

The list of works by American composers, which passed the Examining Committee for production in June, is as follows: Quintet, in F sharp minor, by Ernst R. Kroeger, of St. Louis, Mo.; symphonic scherzo, by Johann H. Beck, Cleveland, O.; concento for piano and orchestra, composer's name not yet given; reverie pastorale, for flute and piano, by Carl Busch, Kansas City, and serenade and intermezzo, for orchestra, by Henry Schoenfeld, Chicago, and a suite for strings by the same composer.

In order to secure this same object-an opportunity for rising composers to get a hear-ing, especially of their larger works—the Bering, especially of their larger works—the Berliners have gone about it in the following fashion, according to the Musical Courier:

"A new society has been formen in Berlin under the title of "Free Musical Union." the object of whose meetings is one well worthy of instation in this and other cities; it is for the performance of newly published or manuscript works of young authors who would not otherwise gain a ready public hearing. The members' fees are utilized for the purpose of paying for the orchestra, solosis, renting of the hall and other incidental expenses, and a committee of members decides by hallot which of the works sent in for performance by the of the works sent in for performance by the authors is worthy of the honor or not. Pro-vised this latter committee is an impartial and efficient one the "Free Musical Union" is an excellent new organization.

The redoubtable Dr. Hans von Buelow, at hi recital here on the 25th inst., will play the fol lowing programme:

1.	Mozart (1756-1791)., Fantasic and Fugue, C majo
	J. S. Hach (1685-1750
	(a.) Sarabande F major.
	(a.) Concerto in the Italian style.
	(Allegro-Andante-Presto,)
2,	Beethoven Sonata appas sionata, op. 5

4. Joachim Raff (1872-1882,
Suite E minor, op. 72, composed 18
(Preinde-Manuet-Toccata-Romance-Fugue.)

5. Chopin (a.) Nocturne, op. 8, No. 3.
(b.) Imprompta, op. 36, C. sharp.
(c.) Scherzo, op. 36, C. sharp minor,
(c.) Scherzo, op. 57,

(c.) Scherzo, op. 28, C sharp minor,
(d.) Bercense, op. 57.

6. Liszt (181-1855.) "Venezia a Napoli"
Canzone e Tarantell.
Von Buelow's great superiority as a Beethover player makes it a pity that we are to hear from bim but one of the master's works, and that the same which he played here on his previous visit in 1877. Why not something of Brahms, also it in 1877. Why not something of Brahms, also, in place of the Liszt tarentella or some of the hackneved Chopin numbers?

It will be a rare treat to hear the most in tellectual plauist of the age even in a programme of stock pieces. But is there not time still to make that programme better represent the especial qualities for which Von Buelow is distinguished?

The last of the series of chamber music rec. The last of the series of chamber music recitals by the Beethoven Quartet Club (Messrs, Carl Retter, Fred G. and George Toerge and Charles F. Cooper) will be given at the Pittsburg Club Theater next Thursday evening. The change to an evening hour will give many their first chance to hear one of these altogether delightful recitals. The final programme, one of extraordinary richness, is as follows:

AT the Art Society's reception on Thursday evening in the Pittsburg Club Theater, Miss Ethel Jones and Miss Mamie Reuck bore the brunt of the musical programme. MISS EDITH HARRIS, last Sunday, resumed her place in the choir of the Second Presbyte-rian Church, after a six-months' absence spent in yocal study under Mme. Gebele-Ashworth in New York.

REYER's opera "Salammbo," which was so safully brought out at the Brussels "Monnaie" Theater a short time ago, and which has since been given there with sustained public interest, will be produced also at the Berlin Royal Opera House.

AT the Opera House of Prague, having finart the Opera House of Frague, having fin-fished with the Wagner cycle, they propose to revive Rubinstein's "Die Kinder der Haide," the earliest of Rubinstein's operas which was played outside Russia, it having been brought out at Vienna in 1861.

LEET'S oratorio, "The Legend of St. Elizabeth," is being produced at Vienna as a "sacred opera," with costumes and scenery. The same experiment was successfully made at Weimar a couple of years ago, and will soon be followed by the Court Opera House at Munich. A NEW oratorio, "Selig aus Gnade," by Albert Becker, was performed at the Garrison Church, in Berlin, last month. In it were very successfully introduced several chorais to be sung by the congregation along with the choir after the manner of Bach's "Passion Music." MRS. LINARD C. THE St. Lee Cecilian Choir will give an entertainment at Washington Hall, Allezheny, next Thursday evening, when Misses Wilma Schuck, Gardner, Danfenbaron and Kelly and Messrs. P. McNamara, B. Nieffert, Dan Evens, J. Gaven, A. Flynn, M. Kean and M. Corcoran will appear on the musical programme.

The "Art Musicale" and both local control of the co THE "Art Musicale" met last Monday evening at the residence of Mrs. Mary R. Scott.
Miss Lizzie Marshall, Miss Davis, Miss Oliver,
Miss Williams. Miss Grace Miller, Mr. F. J.
Bussmau and Mr. Ross W. Drum, besides the gifted hostess, took part in the programme, which, as usual, was of a high order of musical excellence.

Miss Annie Davies, of Pittsburg, who is now studying at the New England Conservatory of Music, in Boston, recently appeared in con-cert there and elicited the following comment from one of the Hub's press critics: "Miss Davies' beautiful contraits voice was very pleasing when heard in the 'Blind Girl's Song."

WE are glad to be able to contradict the many rumors that were set affoat regarding August Wilhelmj and his having lost his abil-ity as an artist. He met with so much success at his first concert in Berlin recently that he was to give a second one there, with the as-sistance of the Philharmonic Orchestra, on the 24th ult.—Musical Courier.

THE Allegheny Musical Association will give its next concert in Carnegie Music Hali on Thursday evening, April 24. The chorus, under Conductor W. A. Lafferty, will be assisted by Mra. Helen Boyce Hunsicker, of Philadelphia, and Miss Grace Miller, of Allegheny, sopranos: Miss Hattie C. McLain, of Boston, contraito, and Mr. Clarence Eddy, of Chicago,

The following cable, reprinted in the musical journals, though it seems to come from the wrong place (Mr. Craig died in Munich), will interest the many friends of the lamented young plants!

Sound planist:

Berkin, March 22.—George Russell Craig, the son of a prominent Pittsburg business man, died here suddenly last week. He was formerly the organist of Trinity Church, Pittsburg, and came to Germany to finish his studies. Prince Ruprecht, the future King of Bavaria, and other prominent men were special friends of the dead man, and testified their regard by spiendid foral gifts.

What Tarkey, was be thought regarding the WHATEVER may be thought regarding the question of what band should be secured for the Exposition next fall, all right-minded prople will agree that the Great Western Band, having been engaged for the opening of the baseball season, should not now be ousted from that engagement at the bidding of the M. P. U. The public had almost forgotten the existence of that moribund instrument of tyranny. It is a pity that the public memory should be jogged by a repetition of the old petty, jealous spirit instead of some of the glorious schemes for ameliorating the condition of music-makers put forth on paper by that same M. M. P. U.

MR. GEORGE H. WILSON, compiler of that valuable series of Musical Year Books, has this valuable series of Musical Year Books, has this to say in his prospectus of the volume for 1889-90, which will be out about May 20: The new year book will be similar in plan to the last. It will contain about 150 pages, displaying the happenings in the larger cities of the United States and Canada, local events being classified. Its supplemental features will include: Table of new compositions by native writers; table of first performances in the United States, and another embracing the world, of more important works (more far reaching than any I have yet prepared); summary of proceedings at the annual meeting of the M. T. N. A., and a full index of titles. The only feature of the new year book will be a the M. T. N. A., and a full index of titles. The only feature of the new year book will be a retrespect. The present and future value of the year book scarcely needs urging. Merely for purposes of comparison, is it not of benefit to you to have at hand, in convenient form, a complete record of the work of leading singing clubs, chamber music, oratorio and orchestral societies of the country?

Interest in the musical features at this reception centered in the splendid at this reception centered in the splendid pianos used by Prof. Gittings and Miss Jones. They were the Bechstein grands, furnished for this occasion by Prof. Bechtel, 702 Smithfield, the local agent of these pianos. One Reason Why nearly everybody should take a good med icine in the spring is because at this season the system is especially susceptible to the benefit system is especially susceptible to the benefit to be derived from a reliable preparation like Hood's Sarsaparilla. In the winter various impurities accumulate in the blood, the effect of which is most felt when spring comes on, in general weakness and languor. The system craves assistance to maintain the health, tone and expel impurities which Hood's Sarsaparilla readily gives. Try it.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. Absolute Proof of Success is the fact that the hundreds of testimor of cures made by the specialists of the Catarrh and Dyspepsia Institute at No. 323 Penn ave-nue, and which have been published in this paper, have not only contained the residence but the full name AS SIGNED BY THE PA-TIENT, thus proving their genuineness. To say that a physician can cure a disease is one thing, and to prove that he has cured it is an-other. If they have the means to cure the diseases of their specialty and thus prove this fact by referring you to hundreds whom they have cured in your own city and at your own door, what better evidence can they give? The physicians of this institution are specialists in the true sense of the term, as no patients are received for treatment except those suffering from catarrh, dyspepsia or diseases of women head into her throat, where it became very tenacious and hard to raise. She coughed, and often felt dizzy. Her stomach became very weak, so that she felt sick after eating, and would often vomit up her food. She was continually tired and fully realized that she was gradually getting weaker. After taking a course of treatment from these specialists she says: "It gives me pleasure to state that I have been cured of catarrh.
